Who are we?

Beth-Shean has been offering places of healing and safety to people affected by mental and emotional distress since 1996.

As a Christian organisation, we believe that every person has the potential to live a fulfilled, meaningful life. This propels our commitment to high standards of service, running a trust that maintains its original vision whilst being responsive to the needs of the community.

What we do

We operate two services :

“Crisis Respite” is a short-term residential intervention available to people in the Auckland DHB area, referred by Adult Mental Health Services.

Experienced staff are on hand to support people experiencing distress or unwellness. Guests are encouraged to work on their recovery while taking time out from everyday stresses. Our spacious comfortable home is in a pleasant suburban environment.

“Accommodation” consists of shared, independent living for people who use mental health services and are working on their own recovery.

- Residents are encouraged to utilise their existing support networks as required.
- Modern home with easy access to transport and shops.
- Self-referral, referees required.

All our services place a high value on people's safety and are drug, alcohol, and smoke-free.
